THE Hongkong Telegraph.

HONGKONG, 16TH AUGUST, 1881.

In commenting on the various stages of the passage of the Irish Land Bill through the House of Lords, briefly announced from London by various telegrams, we made special remark on the amendments which were stated to have been carried against Her Majesty's Government. We expressed an anxious desire to know if these amendments in any way affected the vital principles of the Bill, as we felt assured that the temper of the country, which in this instance, is entirely with the Government, would not brook the captious opposition of the Upper House on a question to which the Ministry were irrevocably bound to stand or fall by. Although the utter impotency of the House of Lords, when pitted against a popular Ministry, backed up by large majorities in the Commons and enthusiastically supported by the great masses of the people throughout the country, has passed into a bye-word, a conflict between the Government and the House of Lords was to be dreaded for many special reasons which must be apparent to everyone who has studied the political character of the present age. We hoped that the Lords would content themselves with altering or amending details without interfering with the vital principles of the Bill, and when we calmly considered what would inevitably be the result of an obstinate opposition to a powerful and determined Government who had pledged themselves to the country to carry this measure, we believed that our hereditary legislators would show a wise discretion in avoiding a conflict which could only end in their own discomfiture.

Our hopes were altogether illu-sionary. As will be seen by a telegram in another column, the House of Lords have placed themselves in direct antagonism to the Irish Land Bill to Her Majesty's Government and the House of Commons, and the battle has already raged fiercely on both sides. On the 11th inst. the Land Bill was reported to have finally passed the Lords, and we now hear that on its being sent down to the Commons to be amended, that pugnacious and thoroughly independent and representative body declined to ratify their Lordships' amendments which in any way touched the principle of the Bill, and rejected them by large majorities.

After a long and animated debate the Bill was returned to the Lords, who in turn dissented from the alterations made by the Commons, and insisted on their own being recognised. And so, for the present, affairs have come to a deadlock.

The procedure in any ordinary differences of opinion between the two Houses is well known. The Commons can demand a conference, that is, a meeting of deputations from both Houses, at which reasons are advanced for disagreeing with amendments the Lords may have made to any Bill; and, if their Lordships are not satisfied with these reasons, a second conference is desired; and then what is called a free conference may be demanded, at which more discretion and latitude are allowed in arguing the points at issue. It may be noted, however, that no free conference has been held since 1740. In 1851 resolutions were passed by both Houses agreeing that reasons for disagreements from amendments may be communicated by messages without a conference, and this has been the usual practice from that time up to the present.
The ordinary rule affecting differences between the two Houses on amendments made to a Bill is simply, if the Commons agree to the amendments, the Bill is returned to the Lords, if not it is dropped altogether.

It is, however, a very different thing when a Bill happens to be, as in the present instance, a popular measure, on the success of which the most powerful Government Britain has ever known, has staked its reputation, and has announced the intention of carrying it against all opposition, or falling in the attempt. The Irish Land Bill, if rejected by the Lords, will raise an agitation which can only end in civil war and bloodshed, and must shake the empire to its foundation. Is the most liberal measure ever introduced for the benefit of a country which for centuries has been oppressed and down-trodden to be rendered nugatory by the interested opposition of an effete body of hereditary protectionists? It is hardly possible. The Government and the Commons will be backed up by the people, and if a war between classes is once declared the days of that old-fashioned and almost useless machine, hereditary legislation, will soon be over.
Aristocratic exclusiveness is a game nearly played out in England, at all events so far as the government of the country is concerned; and this recent display of arbitrary shortsightedness is merely another nail in the coffin. The question of abolishing the House of Lords from the constitution of Great Britain has been advocated more or less forcibly in many newspapers holding advanced opinions for years past, and had their opposition to the Irish Church Bill been maintained, there can be little doubt that they would then have fallen. At the last moment, when Mr. Gladstone placed the grim alternative before them, their Lordships consented to pass the measure, and they will be wise to show a similar complacency to fall in with the views of the Government on the Land Bill before it is too late.
It is no reckless statement to assert that if the House of Lords remain obdurate in the present instance, they are simply sealing their own doom; but we still think they will exercise discretion in submitting to fate in time to avert impending disaster.

Apropos of our recent remarks anent the China Mail's unfair and garbled account of Governor Hennessy's policy in Barbadoes, the following extract from the great Liberal "weekly," the Spectator, published in 1875, just after Mr.

Hennessy (as he then was) assumed the Governorship is of interest :—

"Mr. Pope Hennessy, the New Governor of Barbadoes, has had, like every other Governor, to receive an address from the Bishop and his clergy. The address was presented, and as it asked protection for the Church, and Mr. Hennessy is a decided Roman Catholic, the situation was a little awkward, but the Governor turned it very neatly. He told the deputation that he had once, when in Parliament, travelled from the east of Europe night and day to vote against a proposal which attacked the Church of England. Arriving an hour or two before the division, he made the vote, which would have been 274 to 273, an equal one, and the Speaker, as usual, gave his vote for further consideration. Mr.
Hennessy had, in fact, 'saved the Church' for that night, and was told by Mr.
Disraeli that his vote was a 'significant incident in his career.' The obvious deduction for the Bishop of Barbadoes was that the Governor would protect the Church in the colony, and he made it still more plain by declaring that he regarded the Anglican Church as 'a breakwater against the tide of infidelity now unhappily rising in Europe,' an opinion in which Dr.
Mitchison no doubt heartily coincided."

The consistent and impartial support which Sir John Pope Hennessy has given the Church of England throughout his public career, reflects greatly to his credit, justly enhances his reputation as a Governor far above paltry party differences, and clearly exemplifies the broad lines on which his principles of statesmanship are based.

IMPORTANT TELEGRAM.

The following telegram, dated August 13th, was received yesterday by the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce :—

The House of Commons upon bringing up the report of the Lords amendments to the Irish Land Bill rejected all which affected the principle of the Bill by large majorities. The House agreed to an adjournment of the debate and further amendments were rejected. After a long and animated debate the Bill was returned to the Lords. The House of Lords dissented from the Commons' amendments and insist upon their own.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Inspection of the Volunteer and Government Fire Brigades announced to take place this afternoon is postponed sine die.

The German corvette Stosch, Captain von Blanc, left this port to-day for Newchwang.

We are informed by the Agent of the O. & O. S. S. Co. at this port that the steamship Oceanic, with mails, &c., from San Francisco to the 23rd ult., has arrived at Yokohama and leaves for Hongkong to-day.

The steamship Larch, expected from Canton this evening or early tomorrow morning, will go straight to Aberdeen Docks. The Esmeralda will be placed on the Patent Slip on Saturday to undergo the ordinary survey.

The Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company's property, Marine Lot No.
184, and commonly known as Mac-Donald's Slip, has been sold to Chinese for on dit $80,000. The area of this valuable property, according to the lease, is 1,600 square feet, but there is an encroachment of 3,152 square feet, which raises the actual area to 34,752 square feet.

The chief who has raised the standard of revolt against the Bey of Tunis is named Ali-ben Khalifa. He resides at Nerad, near Gabes, of which place he is Caid. Ali-ben Khalifa is 60 years of age, a man of great wealth, and unbounded influence with all the tribes south of the Regency. The treason of the Bey of Tunis against the Sultan, as shown in recent negotiations with the French, was publicly proclaimed the other day in the mosques of Kirwan, and has caused great indignation throughout the country.

We notice that the City Hall Museum has been closed to the public since the 11th instant for inspection, and in consequence of a beam supporting the Ball Room having been found infested with white ants, which necessitates its removal and a new one to be replaced, this will contribute to the further closing of the institution. We understand that the repairs will be completed in three or four days hence.

According to a telegram dated London, August 13th, the South African Republic has been proclaimed. This is rather indefinite intelligence, as it might mean that our late enemies the Boers have reasserted their independence, although it more probably refers to those British colonists who have so vehemently expressed their disapproval of the lenient policy adopted by the Gladstone Administration towards the Dutch settlers. We observe from home papers that a free republic has lately been the cry of these agitators, and now they have likely enough accomplished their desires.

The extensive preparations made by the members of the Chinese community of Hongkong at the principal Joss-house, the Man Mo Temple, Hollywood-road, on the occasion of the feast of Chong Yuen Seng Wai, and also bearing some specialities about it as being ordered on the occasion of the mourning for the late Empress, were partly completed yesterday, and the greater part of the exquisite exhibits will be on view tonight. The exhibition will last for five days, and on each succeeding day until the fourth, fresh exhibits will be added. The exhibition this year surpasses those of previous years, both in the size and decoration of the bamboo erection raised in front of the building, as well as the finish of the representations. The whole will form quite an imposing spectacle and will well repay the trouble of a visit.

Emigrants who go down to the sea in ships often meet with some perilous experiences. Amongst these the sensation of being afloat upon the Atlantic Ocean in a disabled steamboat must be not the most pleasant in the world.
Telegrams from Orkney state the German steamer Vandalia, with over one thousand emigrants on board, has been drifting in the West Atlantic in a disabled condition. It is consoling to find that the Seahorse and Falke, sent by the British and German Governments respectively, succeeded in picking up the Vandalia. As stated in our issue of Saturday she was safely towed into Stornoway, in the Hebrides.

It has also been telegraphed that the Government, in reply to a question, have promised to deal with the Bradlaugh difficulty next session. Allowing that the Ministry are likely to have their hands full for some time to come with the Land Bill and Irish troubles generally, we consider that the electors of Northampton and their legally elected representative have good cause to complain of unnecessary delay in a matter which effects a great constitutional principle, and which ought to have been made a question of urgency months ago.

In the House of Lords last month Earl Onslow called attention to the excessive Church accommodation within the boundaries of the city of London. It is alleged that there are 57 churches, with 31,055 sittings, and an annual income of £40,266, although the congregations do not, in the aggregate, average more than 6,731, including clergy, choristers, paupers, and school children.

After all our comet has been grossly libelled. His detractors—probably the astronomers who did not have the honour of discovering his majesty—cast very sorry aspersions on his tail, which they said, was, so far as comets go, a very little tail indeed. Happily, justice has been done to the heavenly visitor by the Yankee star-gazers.
These astute men have found out that the nucleus of the comet is 700 miles in diameter, and the coma 200,000, whilst the length of his tail is 5,000,000 miles. We trust this information will be widely circulated, a comet with 700 miles of nucleus, and a 200,000 miles coma, is not to be slighted with impunity.—Sportsman.

The Japanese steamer Niigata Maru, Captain Wynn, from Yokohama, &c., which arrived here this morning, experienced a typhoon on her way down from Japan, but fortunately got through it without any serious damage. She reports left Kobe on Tuesday 9th August, at 5 a.m., and experienced fine weather with light variable winds to Thursday, 11th inst., when a fresh N.E. breeze sprung up, which by Friday morning increased to a typhoon travelling in a Westerly direction. At 10 a.m. on Friday 12th, in lat. 28° 35' N., long. 122° 58' E. slowed down engine, and headed ship to the sea till 9 p.m., when the weather moderating ship was put on her course again. From thence to port light S.W. monsoon and fine weather.

Arrived in Hongkong at 6.20 a.m.
The lowest reading of the barometer was 28.40, at 5 p.m. on 12th August.

We hear from Macao that the Salt Monopoly was put up to auction yesterday, but had to be withdrawn as no bid was made.

We would remind our readers that the half-yearly general meeting of the Shareholders of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation will be held in the City Hall at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

An Independent de Saigon of the 21st July states that Rear-Admiral Meyer has been appointed to relieve Rear-Admiral Duperré as Commander-in-Chief of the French naval division on the China and Japan stations, Rear-Admiral Duperré's two years' service having nearly expired.

Referring to the decree recently published in Manila respecting tobacco cultivation in the Philippines, the Comercio states that in the financial year ended June last, the estimated tobacco revenue amounted to $6,273,700.
The expenses resulting from the monopoly being $4,781,000, the amount to be raised by taxation after its abolition will be about 1,793,000 dollars.

In the cricket match between Lancashire and Derbyshire, played at Derby, on June 27th and 28th, Barlow, the Lancashire professional, accomplished what is certainly one of the most extraordinary bowling feats on record. In the Derbyshire first innings, he bowled ten overs and one ball (nine maiden overs) taking 6 wickets at a cost of 3 runs. The match ended in favor of the County Palatine by an innings and 141 runs, Mr. A. N.
Hornby scoring 145 for the victors.

Most of the crack ponies were taken in from grass yesterday, and training may be said to have commenced in the leading stables from to-day.
This morning Prejudice went for a short spin, looking as fit as a fiddle, and as sound as a bell. We hear that Prejudice has been backed for $500 to beat Wild Dash the first time they meet in the Autumn races.—Courier.

Our contemporary may be a good judge of a fiddle, but he evidently knows nothing about race-ponies. The idea of Prejudice "looking as fit as a fiddle" even before commencing a course of training is simply ridiculous.
We think Wild Dash, fit and well, will beat the "crack" if they oppose each other in the Criterion Stakes next meeting.—Ed. Hongkong Telegraph.

We have been favoured with the following report from the British bark Lota, Captain Duffield :—Left Newchwang July 1st in company with the Annie S. Hall; crossed the bar together and was in sight of her all through the voyage up to the 15th July. On the 14th were very close to each other, and had a heavy sea all day. At 4 a.m., on the 15th, we parted from the Annie S. Hall, being in lat. 28.30 N. long. 122.19 E.; also passed schooner Emma, bound South. At 9 a.m. wind, E.S.E., and increasing in violence, and at noon it was blowing a fresh gale with heavy squalls, and sea increasing, bar. 29.50.
At 2 p.m. blowing a hard gale with heavy squalls. At 2.30 p.m. wind, suddenly increasing to typhoon force, carried away mizen-stay and split the lower main-top-sail, and main topmaststaysail; then hove ship to under bare poles. At 6 p.m. wind hauling to the S.E., wore ship on the starboard tack, heading E.N.E. At 6.30 p.m. shipped very heavy sea, flooding decks fore and aft, and filling the cabin and fore-castle, washing, adrift ladders, honcoops, and other moveables. At 8 p.m. wind still increasing and ship labouring heavily; bar, 29.24. At 4 a.m. on the 16th gale moderating, but still a heavy sea; in lat. 28.51. N. long. 122.29 E. we set main top-mast stay-sail and fore-top and stay sails. At 6 a.m. we found that some of the lanyards of the rigging had parted, also a part of the bulwarks were washed away. At 8 a.m. we bent lower main topsail and set it; moderate gale and puff. We set to repairing the damages all day, gale decreasing; later on we the found ship had a strong list to port, on the following day, 17th, set to trimming the cargo. Light southerly winds from thence to port. Arrived in Hongkong on the 14th.

LATEST COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Tuesday, August 16th, 1881.
One o'clock P.M.

The sale of McDonald's Slip, contrary to expectation, has made no material improvement in the status of the Dock Company's shares, in fact the contrary is actually the case. We predicted yesterday that the stock would be quoted at 50% premium within two days, and our prediction has already been realised. We had good reasons for believing that the recent rapid rise in this stock from 43 to 56 was due to mere causes of speculation, and that as soon as the "bulls" and "bears" had completed their operations the shares would gradually fall to something like a reliable quotation. We do not, however, pretend to understand the character of the operations in Docks which we have had to report during the last ten days. They have puzzled us, and doubtless mystified a good many more. Yesterday a few shares were sold at 52, and at 51 for the end of the month more than a couple of hundred changed hands, without, however, stemming their downward rush. To-day sellers are plentiful at 50, but no buyers can be found, and unless a reaction should set in when the pros. and cons. of the sale of the McDonald's Slip property come to be discussed, a further fall is inevitable. Banks are of course very quiet, and we do not suppose that the meeting of the Shareholders this afternoon will lead to any startling disclosures, although investors are only waiting for some report from Shanghai to initiate business of an important character. Steamboats are rather weaker, offers to sell at 21 per cent. premium per share failing to attract would-be purchasers. No other shares have been mentioned. Exchange quotations remain unaltered.

ABSTRACT OF "PEKING GAZETTES."

We take the following from the N. C. Daily News:—

June 25th.—(1) The Censorate report their decision in the case of Tê Shêng, a Secretary in the Palace Stud Department. This official was accused of certain malversations of public money, and on conviction was cashiered. He appealed against his sentence and the case was referred to the Court of Censors, who now, after a careful hearing, find that every count in his indictment can be substantiated by ample evidence.—Decree confirming this decision has already appeared.
(2) The Governor of Kiangsi reports a double murder that has occurred in his province. The prisoner, a blind man, called T'u Ling-jun, belongs to the district Nam-ch'ang, where he has lived by advancing small sums of money to the villagers. His next door neighbour, named Fan, was in his debt to the amount of 1,500 cash, to be repaid at some indefinite period. Some time since the two, who had always up to that time been on good terms, quarrelled about the purchase of some clothes, and the understanding between them was not improved by T'u demanding the repayment of his debt from Fan in the public street; on which the latter snatched away the blind man's staff and broke it in two, proceeding then to knock off his hat and run away. This insult rankled in the breast of T'u and he determined to wipe it out in the other's blood. For a long time no opportunity presented itself. At last, however, he ascertained that his enemy was going to the capital on business, whither he preceded him, taking up his quarters at the inn he knew that Fan frequented. Here he provided himself with a dagger and engaged a bed on the first story. Nine or ten days after, Fan arrived and secured a bed in a room opposite the blind man's. As his room, however, was inconveniently full the first night, he walked into the opposite one and lay down to sleep, so it happened, on the very next bed to that of T'u. Waiting till the heavy breathing of his adversary assured him that he was asleep, the blind man softly removed the counterpane with his left hand, whilst with the right he dealt him ten or more blows with the dagger, wounding him in all parts of the body and killing him almost immediately. Roused by the groans of the dying man, one of his brothers came to his assistance and seized the murderer by the queue, on which the other struck out wildly at him, inflicting some slight wounds, till, finding he was bent on securing him, he stabbed him fatally in the throat and escaped through the door. Subsequently, however, he delivered himself up to the authorities and made a full confession. He has been branded on the left cheek and sentenced, subject to the Imperial confirmation, to summary decapitation.—Rescript: Let the Board of Punishments deliberate at once and report.
June 26th.—(1) A decree granting permission to Ch'ü Yuan, Governor of Sheng-king, to come to Peking for audience. Jen Fu is to act for him during his absence.
(2) Memorial from the Governor-General at Nanking, reporting the death of the mother of Wu Yuan-ping, Governor of Kiangsu, at his official residence on the 1st of June.—The Governor, as is usual in such cases, has locked up his seal, and deputed the Financial Commissioner to carry on the routine duties of the post pending reference to His Majesty for permission to vacate his post and observe the usual period of mourning. The memorialist ventures to hope that there will be no delay in appointing an officer to the post.

(3) A memorial from the Imperial Armoury Office, submitting a list of the number of suits of armour worn at reviews held by the Emperor and supposed to be stored over the Tung-hua Gate of the Imperial city, with particulars as to the number of suits missing or damaged. The loss by theft of a certain number of these suits of armour having been reported to His Majesty, a return of those in store was called for, and the memorialists now beg to report that the officers in charge of the armour have informed them that there should be 14,028 suits of brass studded armour, consisting of casque and cuirass, which are stored in eighteen large presses in the two-storied building above the Tung-hua Gate. They find that there are twenty-two cuirasses missing, and twenty-five either damaged or incomplete, that twelve casques are missing, and twenty-six are either damaged or incomplete. Of plumes for these casques there should be 17,528 stowed in eight boxes. Of these plumes 101 are missing, and 1,235 are either damaged or incomplete. There should be eight hundred suits of old padded doublets with helms, worn by the han chün divisions of the eight Banner Corps, which are stowed in two presses. Sixty-four suits are missing of these, and three are damaged or incomplete; none of the helmets are missing. Wrappers, covers to boxes, and other miscellaneous properties are also found to be missing. In commenting upon this report the memorialists observe that although the Secretary in charge of the armour is not technically responsible for its safe custody, they consider that his want of supervision should be marked by the infliction of a penalty. They append a list of the armour and other articles that are missing, and would explain that the delay in the submission of this report is due to the large number of articles that had to be inspected.

June 28th.—(1) A decree. The Office of the Imperial Household have submitted a report in obedience to command. They state that payments into the Treasury of the Privy Purse are reckoned at Treasury weight, and that payments from the Treasury of the Privy Purse are issued at "Metropolitan weight," and occasionally at "Market weight." The balance in favour of the Treasury of the Privy Purse that this system creates is applied to the purchase of stationery and the payment of anti-extortion allowances; any sums left over being credited to the public account. The Secretary who superintends the issue of payments has not the power of sanctioning or disallowing applications for payment, and can have no collusion with his subordinates. The sum of Tls. 500,000 issued by the Board for specified payments, which has led to the query which the Office has been called upon to answer, has been employed in the most sparing manner possible. There has been no application for funds in excess of the amount required, and on every occasion that money has been received from the Board, special accounts have been kept for each sum so drawn, and on the conclusion of the work for which the money was drawn, a statement is invariably submitted to His Majesty. This being the case, the matter need not be pursued farther.

(2) Chang Chih-tung is appointed Secretary of the Grand Secretariat, with brevet rank as Vice-President of the Board of Ceremonies.

(3) Memorial from the Commandant of the Peking Gendarmerie, reporting the arrest of four individuals concerned in the theft of padded doublets from the armoury store above the Tung-hua Gate, and of brass gutter-pipes from the wall of the Forbidden City. Also of two receivers of the stolen property. One of these men bears tattoo marks on his face showing that he has thrice been sentenced to banishment, and another has tattoo marks showing that he has once been sentenced to banishment. Although they have made a detailed confession of their guilt it is impossible to accept their statement as correct, and the memorialist has therefore to pray that they may be handed over to the Board of Punishments to be formally tried.

(4) The Governor-General of the Hukuang Provinces reports the despatch of an officer with a remittance of Tls. 10,000, being the second instalment of the Tls. 100,000 at which the lekin on salt in the province of Hupeh is assessed for the present year.
